Subject: Question about the Contract of Service Agreement between Metra and BNSF
Date: Friday, July 26, 2019 8:59:04 AM

Hello,

My name is Elizabeth Moon, I am a resident of [REDACTED]. I understand that Metra contracts out the BNSF line to BNSF railway.

On this paper it breaks down the costs into what costs are paid by carrier (administration, engineering, mechanical, transportation), and what costs are paid by Metra (fuel, insurance, downtown stations). But it doesn't explain how the revenue is split, if it is split at all. Can you tell me how revenue generated on these lines is distributed? Does all revenue generated by BSNF go to BSNF? Does it all go to Metra, and Metra gives a stipend to BNSF? Does that stipend correspond to how many tickets are sold, or a flat amount?

Thank you,
Eliza Moon
